TO TALK, TEMPERANCE

Major C. A. Bateman Will Lecture the Drunkards.

GOOD TEMPLAR EVANGELIST

Professor Alexander Reads Two Heads That Are Well Known—He Will Lecture to Men Only To-Night.

Grand Chief Templar H. G. Coy has arranged for the coming to Montana of Maj. C. A. Bateman, D. D., a noted temperance lecturer, who will visit the various cities in the interests of the Independent Order of Good Templars. Major Bateman claims California as his home, but he travels all over the United States, and carries credentials as the right worthy grand lecturer and deputy international supreme templar and organizer of the order, with the highest kind of endorsements.

Major Bateman opens the state campaign in Anaconda next Thursday night in the M. E. church, and will lecture for several evenings. All the lectures will be free and all are invited to attend and hear the eloquent champion of the temperance cause.

GUESSES THEM RIGHT.

Professor Alexander Never Fails to Read His Subjects.

At the conclusion of the lecture last evening Professor Alexander made the usual number of public examinations, and among his subjects were the Cowboy Preacher Rice and D. R. Beck, which particularly pleased the audience. The scores of people who are acquainted with Mr. Beck will readily endorse the estimate of his character as delineated by the lecturer. The readings were as follows:

Cowboy Preacher Rice resembles his mother in temperament and sympathies. Is more inclined to the sympathetic and emotional than logical; has strong moral and religious aspirations, and also strong tendencies to animal gratification; is firm when aroused and contrary when opposed; would be more energetic and determined when obstacles are in the way, and might get lazy when things went smooth; has good social nature; would make a better physician than surgeon; would enjoy general study, but would lack that exactness and thoroughness which would make a scientist; would make a good teacher; has strong sexual love and loved the company of ladies, and would be "all broke up" if his sweetheart went back on him.

D. K. Beck has a strong, finely-knit physical organization. That combination of the mental and motive temperaments, combined with a large brain, which gives the positive student nature; likes to investigate, wants to know the why and the wherefore of everything. It gives the love of science and the ability to originate thought; is thoroughly independent and, though the whole town was opposed to him, would still insist on his own opinion. Has both mathematical and constructive ability, and could make a good specialist. He would not be a follower and follow from feeling, but must have things explained to him. Would be cranky in his ideas and unchangeable in his purposes until new facts were presented to him, and then he could change; stubborn, self-willed and combative. Would like to question the other fellow until he had all the knew, and then turn loose the facts in opposition. Would like the ladies as a young man, but if a young lady went back on him it would not make him lose sleep, like it would Mr. Rice. He would simply be glad he found her out. He would have made a good surgeon, pathologist, physiologist or anatomist, and enjoy the physical sciences very much. Would have things his own way even if he had to do them himself, and was more particular in some things than an old maid.

Professor Alexander will give a plain talk to men only at the opera house to-night. Admission will be free. Tomorrow evening he will lecture on "How to Read Character" by common signs, such as manner of walking, mode of wearing the hat, handshake, etc., and on Tuesday evening he will give his familiar lecture on "Love, Courtship, Marriage and Jealousy." This lecture, more than any other, has made a name for the professor wherever it has been given, and has drawn houses crowded to the doors in all the larger Eastern cities. In Butte it was the sensation of the day, and by request of Manager Maguire the professor is booked to repeat it at the opera house in that city next Sunday night.

IN SILVER'S CAUSE.

Practical Politics and the Contribution Box.

J. J. Coleman of Butte, has been in Anaconda for several days of this week circulating a subscription list for the National Bimetallite league. Mr. Coleman has been appointed by the league to superintend the completion of Montana's apportionment of the campaign fund which amounts to $15,000. Butte, single-handed and alone, raised half the sum and the remainder of the state is expected to do the rest. Other subscriptions added to that of Butte, makes the amount now in the hands of the treasurer $11,000, leaving a balance of $4,000 for Anaconda, Philipsburg, Deer Lodge, Great Falls, Bozeman and other east side cities. Mr. Coleman met with a generous reception in this city, though there was a strange reluctance to set the ball going by "heading his list," yet all promised to drop their share into his fund, and he broke the ice with a leader yesterday. He will be in Anaconda several days the first of the week at work on the list.

Henly, New York.

PIANOS, YOUR CHOICE FOR $150

Now is the Time to Come Prepared to Buy

My allotted time for closing out the entire stock of pianos and organs at 123 East Park avenue has nearly elapsed, and I must dispose of the few left at once to save expense and return freight. I have in stock and must dispose of without delay some four or five second-hand pianos. One is a Steinway, another an Estey, a Pease, etc. One or two of them is nearly as good as new; in fact, I will guarantee them. I will offer choice of these instruments to-morrow for $150, on terms of $25 down and $10 per month until paid for. Some of them are worth twice this money, but I can't afford to ship them; would rather give you the amount of freight off the purchase or cost price. The "Kimball," as made at present, is strictly first-class and will last a life time.

Besides the slightly used pianos mentioned above I have three beautiful new "scale Kimball" in fancy wood, fresh and new, that can be had now at our factory cost. All on terms of $25 down and $10 per month. I also have one new Hinz upright piano that originally sold for $375; will sell now for $225, on $10 monthly payments. These will wind up this sale here. Come while the opportunity lasts. 123 East Park avenue. W. C. Orlon, General Agent.

ANOTHER BURGLARY

J. M. Godard's Tobacco Store Entered During the Night.

THEY BROKE IN THE TRANSOM

The Cash Box Tapped for $175, a Gold Watch and a Ring—Two Bad Men Sent to Jail.

When J. M. Godard opened his place of business on Main street yesterday morning, he found that some one had been there before him, for the back door was unlocked and swinging. Investigation proved that the cash drawer had been tampered with also and the contents, amounting to $175, abstracted, together with a gold watch belonging to Arthur Gardner, and an initial ring, the letter B. set in diamonds, taken.

Entrance was effected through a transom over the door, according to the indications. The glass had been broken out by two rocks, the size of a man's fist, which were found on the floor. The thieves presumably broke out the window lights and then retired till all was quiet again and the coast clear. The door some time in the past was provided with iron shutters, which have been broken off. The hinges still remain, and it would have been an easy matter to climb in over the door if they so desired. Then as they slid down the door it is easy to see how the two windows in the door were broken by their toes as they slid down.

Mr. Godard seldom has so much money on hand, but last night two men came in and paid him some borrowed money, and this with a good day's trading made the sum which the burglars got.

The rear entrance to the store is shaded by a stairway, by fences and outbuildings, and any burglar could work there in comparative safety from detection.

Suspicion rested upon two men who left the city yesterday, but in the absence of positive proof they were permitted to go.

TWO PETTY THIEVES.

They Go Down the Valley to Serve Short Sentences.

A few days ago J. H. Duffy was robbed of a suit of clothes taken from his room in a Main street lodging house. Jack Conley was notified and he located the suit in Keefe's hotel, where a young fellow named Ed Stuart had pawned it for a few days' board. Stuart was arrested and when arraigned before Judge Fitzgerald last evening he pleaded guilty and was sent to Deer Lodge to board at the hostelry of Fitzpatrick. Stuart seemed satisfied with his sentence, for when taken back to his cell he said, in Bowers tones: "De judge mus' ha' been dead struck on Duffy's rags. O'Keefe said dey wasn't good fer tree days' chuck, but de little guy giv me 30 days' feed and lodging fur 'em, and pays de freight to Deer Lodge. I say, copper, he giv me a pretty good deal on 'em, didn't he?"

E. W. Nevius, the man who robbed his benefactors in this city, last week, pleaded guilty before Judge Fitzgerald, and threw himself on the mercy of the court. He said that this was his first offense, and blamed drink for his departure from the path of honesty. The court was disposed to be lenient, and fixed the penalty at 30 days, the lowest term allowed.

We're Selling In Our Ways

Put a hen on a nest of eggs and she'll teach the average business man a lesson. She'll show him that it takes time, patience, judgment and DETERMINATION to hatch any sort of a scheme. She'll teach him that the only way to accomplish a task is to STICK TO IT. We're set in OUR ways. We have made up our minds to accomplish certain results by certain methods—we will stick to 'em with the tenacity of a bulldog to a tramp's situation. Our determination is to build up a BIG BUSINESS that will reflect credit on Anaconda and add to our bank account. And to do this we shall employ only ONE METHOD—selling goods cheap. Did you ever find anything that we sell as cheap anywhere else? NEVER. Can you go to any store in Anaconda to-day and buy Groceries, Liquors or Men's Furnishings as cheap as you can buy them here, at any time of day, at any sort of a sale, on any sort of a bargain counter? TRY IT.
